Master Breeder Calculations

To be considered for a Master Breeder award a membership must have been in operation for a 20-year period, in which there are no less than 10 females bred in each of those years. In addition, a breeder must have a minimum of 300 females bred within the same 20 years.

In February 2006 changes were made to the eligibility of the award. Master Breeder awards will be endowed to the prefix/herd and not individuals of the prefix. This will be subject to the following provision: That a change in the ownership of the prefix is due to family succession and not due to an entirely new entity taking over the prefix. Holstein Australia will give one plaque and one badge for obtaining Master Breeder status, which will be issued in the name of the prefix and not the name of the individuals qualifying.

To be eligible for the title of Master Breeder, points must be earned and must equal or exceed the total number of females bred within the 20-year period.

Master Breeder Packs may be requested through the office and will include a comprehensive list of all animals bred by the membership, awards and a schedule of points earned. An award search is completed in the process of determining eligibility to become a Master Breeder.
